INTRODUCTION

1. Tobago has not been spared from the adverse economic effects that the country encountered due to lower commodity prices in the energy sector that translated into a reduction in Government Revenue. The THA has made the necessary adjustments to adapt to the changing national and international realities.

2. Nevertheless, another critical issue that has emerged in the disruption of the smooth movement of people, goods and services between the islands of Trinidad and Tobago, is the uncertainty of both the air and sea bridges. This issue is of paramount importance given its impact on productivity and on facilitating investment as well as on the overall economic resilience of the island.

3. In order to maintain the quality of life for Tobagonians and reduce the possible negative social impacts in this period of challenging macro-economic conditions, greater emphasis will be placed on improving efficiency in the delivery of public goods and services as well as eliminating wastage.

4. The macro-economic framework for the continued development of the island is hinged on both the rejuvenation of the policy environment that treats with the expiration of the Comprehensive Economic Development Plan (CEDP 2.0) as well as the policy priorities identified by the new Executive of the Tobago House of Assembly. The new policy environment mandates a reconciliation of the two approaches within the context of the National Development Strategy 2016-2030 (Vision 2030), focusing on the areas highlighted in Table I below:

5. A preliminary review of the Tobago PSIP within the context of the CEDP, showed a greater emphasis being given to infrastructure and civil works across the various Divisions of the Tobago House of Assembly. The revised policy direction and the strategic shifts towards innovation and efficiency in the infrastructure projects will free scarce resources for the other priorities including enhancing social protection.

6. The new strategic direction is geared towards improving productivity and enhancing project management skills in order to bring many long-standing projects to completion and maximize the impact of PSIP spending in Tobago.

7. Human Capital Development, Safety and Security and Branding Tobago Clean Green Safe and Serene are also immediate areas of focus in terms of expanding the Tobago PSIP as well as creating linkages with the other Strategic Priority Areas. Further, even as unemployment remains below 5 percent and the number of persons with jobs reached 32,000 in 2016, there remains pockets of vulnerable citizens. This highlights the need for sophisticated research, evidenced-based policy and targeting to ensure that the resources meet the needs of the vulnerable groups in the society. This also calls for the expansion of the social safety net including primary health coverage.

8. Enhancing safety and security is also of priority. The application of social and community-based interventions are necessary to assist law enforcement in the execution of their mandate. Coordination between all stakeholders is therefore a critical success factor.

9. The THA has also highlighted in its budget estimates, other areas of sectoral focus such as Tourism, Agriculture, Health, Education, Youth Development, Housing and Community Development. At the macro-level, the main areas of focus will include job creation, strategic investment in infrastructure, diversification and environmental sustainability. These key elements along with the priorities of economic diversification and productivity, will drive the strategic focus of the Tobago PSIP for the next fiscal year.

OVERVIEW

10. In fiscal 2017, a total of $288.59 million was allocated to the THA for the funding of the PSIP programmes on the island. Table 2 below shows the summary of the distribution of the PSIP allocation by Sectors and the commensurate variation made to the revised allocation. The increases in the revised allocations are outlined as follows:

- Economic Infrastructure from $91.9 million to $176.9 million
- Social Infrastructure from $117.9 million to $123.1 million
- Multi-sectoral and Other Services from $78.7 million to $84.6 million

11. The Assembly increased the allocation by an additional $96.3 million with transfers from recurrent expenditure based on a reprioritisation of the variable cost expenditure heads. As a result, the revised allocation was $384.8 million for the developmental programme. Priority projects were assigned $206.9 million of the revised allocation of $384.8 million which accounted for 53.7 percent of the revised allocation.

12. Further, the expenditure of $187.9 million on these priority projects, represented a 90.8 percent utilisation rate as at May 2017. This performance shows that much more could have been spent on the development programme and highlights the development needs of the island and the efficient and effective use of government funds. It also demonstrates the reality of the constraints in which the Assembly operates as with the rest of the nation.

13. The PSIP Report 2017 summarises the details of the major accomplishments of the various Divisions, sectors and heads of expenditure. Ultimately, the Report provides the initial glance into the careful re-alignment of resources to best meet the needs of the island and its people. Overall, expenditure at the end of August 2017 totalled $384.8 million and was distributed proportionally to the revised allocations.
